CFL

A botanical-infused beverage that nourishes your body when cleansing.

Did you know there are impurities all around you?

Every day, we're exposed to the negative impacts of strenuous environments and hectic lifestyles. From the food we eat and the air we breathe to our busy schedules and demanding workloads, the body endures a lot. Though our bodies have powerful cleansing systems that help combat the negative effects, the continuous exposure to these daily stressors can overwhelm our body's natural defenses. This buildup can eventually affect our overall health, and in turn, can cause weight gain. Scientific studies show that intermittent fasting is a safe, effective tool for weight loss and benefits healthy aging and our overall well-being. Intermittent fasting is an eating pattern that involves regular fasting days.

How can intermittent fasting and CFL help your overall health and well-being?

While ordinary fasting can be tough and may leave you feeling deprived or low on energy, Isagenix builds on the science behind intermittent fasting with Cleanse Days by offering nutritional support your body needs through CFL to help you achieve your health and wellness goals.

How does CFL support your body?

CFL contains a synergistic blend of vitamins, botanical ingredients, adaptogens, and antioxidants to help support and revitalize your body's natural cleansing systems. It also contains no harsh laxatives or diuretics, so it isn't just another fad diet. CFL is a fundamental part of your Daily or Deep Cleanse Days.

How do I use CFL?

- Mix 1 level scoop (6 g) with 60-120 mL room-temperature water.
- Store in a cool, dry place with the lid securely tightened. Storing the product in a refrigerator can prevent caking. Consume within 30 days of opening for best quality.
