Example 1:
Cleansing should be the first step in any skincare ritual to properly cleanse the skin of dirt, makeup, pollution and other impurities. Removing these barriers from the surface allows the next product to absorb into the skin and work their magic.

Example 2:
Does your current cleanser leave your skin feeling tight and irritated? Harsh cleansers can often strip the skin of natural oils, causing that dry and irritated feeling. Apply a generous amount to the face and neck to provide hydration and leaves skin feeling moisturised and soft.

Example 3:
Light and foamy on the skin, Celletoi’s Moisture Balancing Foaming Cleanser combines nature’s cleansing powers to deliver a powerful yet gentle purifier. What texture do you prefer your cleanser to be?

Example 1:
If large pores and excess oil are a skin concern for you, a good toner could be the ideal addition to your skincare ritual. Toners help keep the moisture and oil levels of your skin at an optimum and balanced level. When used regularly, this can improve pore size and overall skin texture. Are you currently using a toner to target skin concerns?

Example 2:
There’s no place for sticky, drying facial toners in any skincare ritual anymore. Celletoi’s Treatment Toner is formulated with glycerin, a hydrating agent that helps retain moisture in the skin for a hydrated, refreshed feeling. Smooth onto your skin after cleansing to remove residual impurities after cleansing and prep your skin for the rest of your beauty ritual.

Example 3:
Botanicals are rich sources of nutrients that work naturally to support the health and texture of skin. Celletoi’s Treatment Toner is specially charged with Celletoi’s exclusive Botanical Blend to bring your skin to its purest, most balanced form. The best part about the Celletoi Botanical Blend? The herb complexes crafted to create the blend include lavender, rosemary, oregano and thyme and are extracted using a special technology that reduces the toxicity of the raw botanicals while increasing their ability to deliver antioxidants to the skin safely and effectively.

Skincare rituals shouldn’t be limited to women. Did you know that men’s facial skin is not only thicker than women’s, it also contains more pores which allows pollution and free radicals to become trapped in the skin? Regular shaving also exposes skin that’s more sensitive to external factors and the skin underneath beards requires extra attention to stay healthy and nourished. Celletoi’s simple, four-step skincare ritual is a no-fuss way for both men and women to care for their skin with minimal effort.

Reach your personal complexion goals the simple way with Celletoi’s four-step process. For best results, simply apply products on the skin from lightest to thickest consistency. This method allows the skin to properly absorb each product, with the thickest and final layer locking in hydration and the benefits of your earlier layers.

Ultra-radiance with a minimalist process. Cleansing skin in the morning and following with a ritual that protects from environmental pollutants aids in strengthening the skin barrier. Your nighttime ritual is just as important. Remove the day’s impurities and follow with a ritual that will work its magic on targeted skin concerns while the skin refreshes during sleep. Celletoi’s morning and night ritual was scientifically formulated to cleanse, strengthen, protect, smooth, lift, nourish and hydrate with a simple, four-step process.

Example 1:
30 days of a new skin ritual with Celletoi and my skin has never felt or looked better. The simple, four-step process was easily slotted into my morning and evening routine and the luxuriousness of the products added an indulgent, spa-like experience to my day. My fine lines have softened and my skin has a lit-from-within luminosity that I’ve never been able to achieve with other skincare products.

Example 2:
Dryness has always been one of my biggest skin concerns and finding a simple, no-fuss skincare ritual that works has always been a struggle. I’ve been trialing Celletoi’s easy, four-step process for the last 30 days and I’m stunned by the results. My skin feels deeply hydrated, soft and supple with no dry, flaky skin in sight. I’ve seen improvement in my skin texture and overall skin tone and the added hydration has given me a soft, natural glow.
